Bits & Pieces. Tip of the ice berg – lots more to come – a little like wiki-leaks ...
Yet to be properly presented ...

Consternation one other night when house was under siege – house at Mount was covered in ivy and Filly the donkey was eating ivy outside and making noise – the soldiers holding the household siege were startled and threatened that they would shoot every one inside if any one ‘moved’ or alerted the ‘attackers’ – it was only a Donkey. They were afraid.

Extract About twenty lorries took part in a round-up of Scartaglin village and the immediate vicinity. A few of those who were being looked for were inside the ring thrown round the village, but a party of British military were late getting into position and we all managed to get out safely. A few fellows who were working with horses were carried to Killarney for identification and let go that night. in this raid the British left a party of military in a house as they withdrew. An officer and ten men held Jerh. Leary's house and made the family prisoners and took up positions inside the windows. Jerh. Leary, who was an officer of Scartaglin Company, had got out of the ring that day and I suppose the hope was that he would, with some others, return when the main body of the military had gone. However, the ruse did not work. A neighbour called to the house and when he found the door shut against him he sent round to adjacent houses. The main body of military returned that night and took away their house party and some civilian prisoners. In fact Jerh Leary returned to the house – but he spotted the shiny reflection from a rifle inside the house through a window – so he slipped away again ... unnoticed and undetected ...	Witness Captain Peter Browne, Ballymullen, Tralee, Co. Kerry. Identity. Captain Scartaglin Company Irish Volunteers, Co. Kerry, 1913 Ufficer i/c. scouting and dispatches 1st Battalion Kerry No. 2 Brigade Subject. (a) Tralee, Easter Week 1916; (b) 1st Battalion Kerry No. 2 Brigade, 1917-1921.

SHOT BY THE MILITARY

Entry Above: 226 Leary Jeremiah Mount May 29th – Age 27 (Actually he was 28 as he was born on 28 February 1895... See Below)

There is no Civil Death record for Jerh. The next search are the newspapers. It is great to have this, the burial record. I have been looking for this for years – I was searching the old Kilbannivane incorrectly - thought the cemetery where Jerh is buried was called 'old'. But there is an older cemetery up by the bull station farther up the road past St Johns.

Jer's Headstone Kilbannivane with his Parents. Date of Death 28th – Did the O'Reilly boys alter the date when cleaning ?

Was the 8 a 3 or a 9 prior ...

Jerh's Grave Headstone - shows Shot 28 May

The plaque at Hartnetts corner above says he dies May 23rd ( Sinn Fein)

The Memorial at Scart seems correct – In respect - Dave Ned and the Scartaglin Community 'Brigade' would not do Jerh such an injustice – they would not make such a 'grave' error regarding Jerh's date of death -

Jerh's Civil Birth Record . Look at the entry above Jerh Leary - Eddie McCarthy - Breahig. Eddie's mother was Edmond's sister, Dave Ned's Aunty Lizzy. .. Small world.
